Dear Friends,

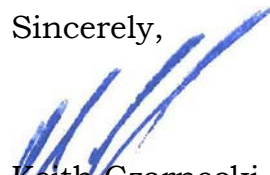

We are proud to announce that our 9th Annual Charity Golf Tournament will continue to pay tribute to our veterans, those men and women whose courage and duty have helped to keep this country safe. The day's events will include the Presentation of Colors, singing of our National Anthem, 18 holes of golf, delicious dinner, live and silent auctions, and raffle prizes.

Please join us Monday, September 28, 2020 at Lake of Isles in North Stonington, Connecticut (the mission of Veterans, Work Vessels for Vets). For over a decade, this organization has been assisting veterans in our communities and we are honored to have an ambassador from them to share their story with us at the event.

There are many donation and sponsorship opportunities in which you can help make this unique charity event a success, including sponsoring a Veteran to golf. Please consider aiding us in our efforts to raise support for this wonderful organization that benefits our Veterans.

On behalf of Work Vessels for Vets and the Veterans they help, we thank you in advance for your support!

Sincerely,

Meet our “Ambassador”

MAJ. MICHAEL McCAVE “I’m a retired Special Forces Green Beret and a 100% Disabled Veteran that retired in 2017 after 17 years of service. I was injured and spent over a year in the hospital and with all my injuries I had to retire early; however, I now find that doing leather work and metal work has really helped me to find my purpose again. In fact, I have been teaching local Veterans some of the Cowboy trades to keep paying it forward. I have found that metal and leather working for me is enjoyable because I can create any product that I see a need for without being restricted to what the market provides. After I was critically wounded while serving as a Green Beret in the Special Forces I had to learn new skills due to my mobility issues to provide for my family. Therefore, I apprenticed under some of the best in the cowboy western arts in metalworking and leather working. Now, with equipment from Work Vessels for Vets, I am opening my small business to continue to provide high quality handmade leather and metal goods while being the example to my daughter as a father who never gives up and continues to work my hardest no matter the outcome. Additionally, I have been inviting and teaching other Veterans in my community and it has created a place to work and gather serving the community. I have organized and run small clinics to teach leather and metal working which gives me the chance to serve my fellow warriors and be a value to my community.”

Maj. Mike McCave, USA, (ret)

In 2008, after the Special Forces Qualification Course (Green Berets), Maj. Michael McCave was sent to 10th SFG out of Ft. Carson to serve as a Special Forces Detachment Commander. He was deployed to the Middle East, Africa and Eastern Europe. On a combat deployment in Iraq, two weeks before our daughter Brielle was born, Michael was injured while on an Advanced Special Operation, where he suffered an injury in an unexpected small arms engagement. Michael was very fortunate to be wearing his chest plate which took two rounds to the chest. Thankfully, he only suffered broken ribs, a torn shoulder and a mild TBI and was able to get home, just in time to see the birth of his daughter.

In later part of the 2013, Michael took a training assignment teaching Special Operators HALO operations. Major Michael McCave sustained a HALO (High Altitude Low Opening) parachuting accident on October 8, 2014 during a HALO operation at Yuma Proving Grounds.

Major McCave was in the midst of a HALO jump when a student began having difficulty and required Major McCave to close in during free fall to provide assistance before the necessary window of time to pull his shoot ran out. Major McCave assisted him successfully; however after helping the student, his threshold of time to pull his shoot began to run out. Major McCave quickly deployed his main parachute, however, there was a defect and his reserve chute quickly came out due to a safety mechanism built into the parachutes, which will automatically deploy the reserve chute if you are still traveling at terminal velocity through 1500 FT AGL. As a result, both chutes were deployed in the air and became entwined and went above, then below his body and stayed tangled like that for the rest of his jump. Major McCave freefell to the ground at 119 mph with no protection other than his faith and trust in God that he would be saved. Miraculously, Major McCave’s life was spared by the grace of God; however he sustained two broken ankles, one with a compound fracture, an open book pelvic break, a broken sacrum, broken L3-L5 vertebrae processes, cervical spine damage and a Traumatic Brain Injury that affected his vision, memory, language processing and emotional well-being. Major McCave has been in several hospitals over the last two years and has relearned how to do so many everyday living activities including walking and reading.

"This organization is highly professional, deeply supportive, and personally invested in every veteran they help. I'm a disabled veteran, with extensive disabilities from injuries in Iraq. Work Vessels for Vets gave me an ATV so I could manage my flock. Please know that donations to this organization go to veterans who actually NEED the assistance."

US Army Sgt Mickey Clayton, Dot Sheep Ranch, OR

"What an amazing organization! Not only did they assist me with two key pieces of equipment to start up my antique car restoration business, they also placed me in contact with an outstanding mentor."

USAF Maj. Scott Bulla, Golden State Auto Restoration, CO

"When we started our chicken egg farm, the list of equipment we needed seemed endless. They set us up with a refrigeration system and helped us get to the next level."

Work Vessels for Veterans is a nonprofit that has had a big impact on our new mission to feed people. I can't thank them enough."

US Army Sgt Owen Lauerman, Lauerman Farms, WA

"This nonprofit gave me assistance when no one else was able. In 2006 my right leg was severed above the knee and I had 3rd degree burns, PTSD, and a traumatic brain injury. I tried jewelry making to improve my fine motor skills, but I needed an expensive precious metal welder. Work Vessels For Vets worked with the manufacturer to get me the welder and now I have a successful business."

US Army Sgt Tara Hutchinson, TaraHutch Jewelry, TX

"Work Vessels for Vets changed my life, inspired me to work hard and accomplish my goals. They are so amazing and the things they accomplish and give back to us Vets that are trying to be entrepreneurs and help others, there are no words to describe my appreciation. God bless them all!"

EQUIPPING VETERAN ENTERPRISES

LAKE OF ISLES
NORTH STONINGTON, CT

Work Vessels for Veterans was started in 2008 after John Niekrash, a Noank, CT lobsterman heard the story of a wounded warrior's dedication and service after having been severely injured in Iraq. John decided that his boat that had served him well for seventeen years should go to someone who had served his country. Our first "vessel," Krasher I was refurbished and donated for commercial fishing in Narragansett Bay, RI to a USMC Reservist who served three tours in Iraq and Afghanistan and a legacy was born.
